Our life was centered around our school,
The games, the parties, and the dances,
Even in summer, around the pool,
The School brought many romances.

From the Freshman to the Senior,
From Elementary to Junior High,
School spirit runs like a fever,
For Attica we live and for Attica would we gladly die.

The Attica colors prevade our themes,
Red and White become for all,
Our victories represent our dreams,
And our Memories in Crimson will never fall.

ATTICA HIGH SCHOOL
ATTICA, INDIANA

THE BIG A 68

A H S

Mr. Kirkpatrick, principal of Attica, received a Bachelor of Business and Physical Education degree from Indiana State University in 1958. He received a masters in Administrative Guidance from Indiana State University in 1963 and has completed his advanced graduate work. He has had experience in this field for ten years, two of these at Attica.

Mr. Kirkpatrick says that preparedness is a key to success. In this wonderful country we have a heritage of equal opportunity. Each of us is challenged to make the most of his opportunities. The development of each students abilities then should be of foremost importance.

School

Demands upon skills and knowledge are increasing. Educational forecasters tell us that citizens of tomorrow must be flexible and adaptable.

My wish is that the student experiences at Attica provide him with a strong foundation for launching a satisfying career and a rewarding life.

Mrs. Ward is Principal Kirkpatrick's secretary, however she also does much mimeographing and test typing for all of the teachers. Her main tasks are making transcripts for seniors and graduates, and keeping attendance records.

John Pickell, Superintendent of the Attica Consolidated School Corporation, has been working in the field of education for forty-three years. The last nine years of his administrative career have been spent here at Attica.

Mr. Pickell is a moderately conservative man believing that one should not be the first to adopt the new or the last to reject the old. He has dedicated himself to being a friend as well as advisor to his students. His philosophy on education shows his sincere interest in youth; "I want to help every child become as fully a rounded social creature as he is capable of becoming."

Mrs. Jean Hurley is both the Superintendent's and Business Manager's secretary. She assists Mr. Lee with the bookstore sales and stocking. Her main duty is to make the payroll for the grade school and high school faculty.

Teaching to help students to eventually become better citizens is her main goal.

Central Normal College was the scene where Mr. Christie received his undergraduate work. He obtained his masters degree from Butler University.

He endeavors to teach his students to be well rounded social beings so that they may fit into late life and know the value of truth, honesty, courage, "stick-to-itiveness," self-reliance, and honor.

To help teach others to enjoy to the fullest extent what the good Lord has provided.

"Every year the band develops some areas of music. To start, we march through football season and perform small skits. This, however, is not the only type of entertainment the band learns. Around Christmas the band goes into concert and this brings out another phase in our music. In January, many hours go into preparing contest music. We have the County Band Festival and Choral Festival, and the Variety show. The last event of the year is the Broadway musical. This gives the individuals in the band and chorus a chance to put themselves forward both musically and dramatically. I feel this part of music is probably the most enjoyable entertainment that the public experiences.

B U S I N E S S

In bookkeeping and accounting, Mrs. Evans says that her aim is to give each student an overview of the complete bookkeeping and accounting process, and to use every means at her disposal to make the course real and meaningful to the students. The use of illustrations and applications in reference to local business situations are used. Demonstration of problem solving by use of the overhead is frequently used in the class. The student is also introduced to automation and data processing and shown how this constitutes a major part of our modern day record keeping.

In beginning typing the students are taught the basic skills in typing--the course is taught so that it is useful both to the academic students as well as those whose aim is to major in business education.

Mrs. Springman graduated from Indiana State University with a B.S. degree. One of her fifteen years of teaching has been spent at Attica. She is a teacher of General Business, Business Math, Shorthand, Typing, Secretarial Office Practice, and is a sponsor for the school paper. Mrs. Springman's goal is to instruct, guide, and help build dependable, self-reliant individuals who will become leaders of tomorrow. He teaches industrial arts, physical education, drivers education, and is the varsity basketball coach. As coach, Mr. Andrews has been very successful this year leading our team to the Regional Tournament.

Sports

Sometimes it's just as hard to watch a game as to play. Talk about getting involved! Was ever anyone so despised as the

Cool, Calm, uncaring jerk that just sits
And never utters a word when you're Screaming your head off?
"The ball, Stupid, get the ball!"
Surely the player, sweating, straining,
Every fiber of his being Concentrating on hitting the basket,
Surely HE can hear you out of ten thousand other voices,
All merged, Swelling to a crescendo
Of deafening, terrible . . .
WONDERFUL
(And man, is it loud)
But wonderful NOISE!

H O M E C

Again this year the Student Council was in charge of the football and basketball homecomings. A great deal of preparation was involved in arranging the parade before the football game. Floats this year were very well done, the winner being the Senior's Snoopy and Happiness if a Victory feast. Queen Leslie Kimbrell was crowned by co-captains Rick Ogborn, Scot Swift, and Tom Williams.

Basketball Homecoming was quite a success. Cathy Hanthorne was crowned the 1967-68 Basketball Homecoming Queen by Leslie Kimbrell. Rodney and Robin Andrews, son and daughter of Coach Andrews, also assisted the ceremonies.

Each year during graduation festivities a tea is given by the seniors to pay honor to their parents. It is a fine thing that the seniors take time to recognize and honor their parents for the many things that they have done to see them to this important time in their lives.

SUNSHINE TEA

The Sunshine Society is a service organization dedicated to spreading "sunshine". They carried on many projects to carry out their purpose. The girls sold peanut brittle, taffy apples and Homecoming Mums to raise funds for their various projects. One of their many projects was to have "Ideal Ladies". Each girl chose her ideal lady to remember and try to be like. The ladies were notified that they had been chosen as some girl's ideal. A tea was held in May at which time the ladies were introduced by the girl who had chosen her as her ideal.

The sunshines girls gave cheer plates to shut-ins, decorated the Christmas tree in the main hall, and contributed $50.00 to the Riley Hospital for Children in Indianapolis.

Sunshine Society Dance

"Love is Blue" was the theme of the Sunshine Dance. Queen Candidates were Monica Asher, (the Queen), Marilyn Pattengale, Linda Fletcher, Patty Schuerick, Marlene Van Dame, Iris Mitton.

Easter Egg Hunt

The Easter egg hunt for the little folks put on by the Sunshine Society was a success in the sight of all little folks who came as guests of Sunshine girls. They hunted eggs, received candy, and played games in Ravine Park. The Sunshine girls had as much fun as the little children.

The "Gospel Swingers" and the "Trumpet Trio" were other groups that performed.

Rehearsal

The Attica High School Music Department presented a bright musical May 3 and 4.

The Music Man is a bright, happy musical of an era that has been long gone from the American way of life. It is the era of the small town America of 1912. The story revolves around the fast-talking traveling salesman, Harold Hill, and his attempt to hoodwink the citizens of a small town into a frantic buying of band instruments and uniforms. Hill's standard procedure has been to create an imaginary crisis in each small town he has visited, and after convincing the townspeople their children are doomed to a life of corruption without an activity to keep them occupied, has managed to sell his instruments and worn-out uniforms. After collecting his money, Hill skips town leaving a group of irate people ready to tar and feather the next traveling salesman to come along. The show opens here.

Charlie Cowell, an anvil salesman, just manages to escape from a small town Hill had just scalped. In a rage, Cowell tells a group of fellow salesmen he will expose Harold Hill if it is the last thing he accomplishes. River City is Hill's next target.

River City's chief source of entertainment is a billiard parlor owned by the mayor. As Hill arrives a new pool table is delivered to the billiard parlor, and this even provides Hill with a perfect alibi. Carried away by Hill's charm, the entire town completely falls for the swindle, except Mayor Shinn and Marian Paroo, the town librarian.

Harold Hill, realizing the success of his venture depends upon selling the Mayor's wife to the idea of a Boy's Band, and overwhelming Marian with his charm. He succeeds with Mrs. Shinn and convinces Marian's mother and small brother Winthrop, a shy, young boy who will not talk because of a speech defect and an emotional upset over the death of his father.

Hill sets out to win Marian. In the meantime, however, he falls in love with her. At the same time a transformation has come over the quiet little Iowa town, Eulalie and her group have formed a dance club; the boys are running all over town singing the Minuet in G; and the local bad boy, Tommy Djilas, is busy trying to invent a music holder for a marching piccolo player. The former enemies, the School Board, have joined voices and formed a quartet.

Charlie Cowell finds Mayor Shinn and the two expose Hill's scheme to the townspeople. Determined to tar and feather Hill, the townspeople begin to chase all over town, hunting him. Mayor Shinn gathers all of the citizens into the school gym, and as Harold is dragged into the group the Mayor shouts for tar and feathers. Marian, indignant over the changed attitude of the citizens, gives the people a stern lecture about the good Hill has brought to River City. At this moment, Tommy Djilas brings the Boy's Band in their oversized uniforms into the gym. The parents are all overcome with pride as their children begin to play the Minuet in G when Harold gives the down-beat. Shinn and all the townspeople congratulate Hill.

Mid-Summer Night's Dream

Grand March

"The Larry Kirkman Band"

"I Could Have Danced All Night"

Many hours of planning and work went into making the Junior Senior Prom an event to be remembered. Many months before the prom the Theme Committee, Francie Evans (chairman), had investigated the possibilities of various themes. Finally "Mid-Summer Nights Dream" was chosen from the many ideas submitted. Now planning began in earnest as Gay Gaylor, chairman of decorating, began the huge task of planning decorations in keeping with the theme. Paper was ordered and cut and rolled, the lamp post and rose arbor began to take shape through the work of the Junior boys in Shop class. The invitations were mailed by chairman, Patty North. Prom favors were ordered by Jacki Hansley. Phil Pierce signed Larry Kirkman's Band from Kokomo to provide the music. Edda VanLaere and Larry Myers planned and gave assignments for the refreshments.

With all plans made, a week before the prom the armory was virtually taken over by the Juniors and Jeff Henderson, chairman of tables and heavy equipment started gathering and moving in materials. All murals had been painted and everything was ready to be put in place. Ed Rollins as chairman of clean-up took care of seeing that everything was delivered and cleaned up afterward.

The Juniors did a fine job of turning the armory into a heavenly garden park, complete with white brick walls, fencing, fountain, and lamp posts. After the Grand March, Cathy Handthorn was crowned queen of the 1968 Junior-Senior Prom by Kitte Sue Buck, who was last year's queen. Her court was Chris Brown, Soni Barker, Susie Foster, and Sandy Gremore. We feel that much of the credit of this fine prom should go to Mrs. Kozloski and Mr. Allenduff, who gave of much time and effort.

MYSELF

I have to live with myself, and so
I want to be fit for myself to know,
I want to be able, as days go by,
Always to look myself straight in the eye;
I don't want to stand, with the
setting sun,
And hate myself for things I have done.

I don't want to keep a closet shelf
A lot of secrets about myself,
And fool myself, as I come and go,
Into thinking that nobody else will
know
The kind of a man I really am;
I don't want to dress up myself in sham.

I want to go out with my head erect,
I want to deserve all men's respect;
But here in the struggle for fame
and pelf
I want to be able to like myself.
I don't want to look at myself and
know
That I'm bluster and bluff and empty show.

I can never hide myself from me;
I see what others may never see;
I know what others may never
know,
I never can fool myself, and so,
Whatever happens, I want to be Self-respecting and conscience
free.

Guest

The "Seniors of '68" have climbed the last rung of their high school ladder of achievements. They have been a very successful class. Many school royalties have come from this class, the class also has had several top athletes in all sports fields. The magazine campaign they made as juniors was the best yet to be given. Their junior prom, "Mirage," was elegant, and their senior "after prom" was even better. Many scholastic awards and citizenship honors have been bestowed on class members. They gathered in Homecoming float honors, and bon fire awards in the 1967-1968 season. These seniors have been strong leaders of the student body, as will be the next group of seniors, but they have many, many, unforgettable, unique, memories as "THE SENIORS OF 1968."
